GERMAN GIRL'S EDUCATION.

As Soon as She Is Confirmed She Begins Preparation for Her Marriage.

An important part in a girl's education in Germany is her instruction in domestic science, writes Charlotte Bird in the July Ladies' Home Journal. She is taught how to knit and darn stockings, and how to repair towels and bed and table linen skillfully. She crochets lace and other things, and makes all kinds of cross-stitch work. Most German girls of the upper classes have some musical education. As a rule, they play better on the piano than they sing. After the girl has finished her school course she goes to a boarding house of the better class to learn how to cook and keep house, and to acquire the ways of refined society outside of her own home. Here she remains for several months and watches the process of the cooking and other work, often lending a hand herself. It will be seen that her education presupposes that she will marry some time in her life, and it is in a measure a preparation for that event. Consequently, when she has been confirmed she begins to prepare her trousseau. She crochets lace, makes table covers, works long lilies in cross-stitch, and by degrees collects a large supply of towels and bed and table linen. Everything that is available is put away in the chest holding her treasures.

A Loud Interruption. "I declare, Maria, this is too irritating to be endured. I told you I didn't want to be disturbed, and here somebody has suddenly sprung a most infernal clatter on me. What does it mean?" "There wasn't any clatter, my dear." "What was it, then?" "Why, I just happened to pass through the room in my new red and yellow shirt waist, that's all." "Well, don't do it again."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Not Susceptible. "That man who called here yesterday says that you are the most formidable specimen of political boss he ever saw." "The one who was talking about legislation?" asked Senator Sorghum, as a smile gently illumined his face. "Yes." "Well," was the rejoinder, as a hard, cold look supplanted the smile; "you don't want to pay too much attention to him. These lobbyists are all such flatterers."—Washington Star.

Quick Mail Transit. Mr. Gotham—I hear Mr. De Pave has been arrested. What is the charge against him? Mr. Brooklyn—Delaying the United States mail. "My goodness! In what way?" "De Pave is very fat, and when a mail wagon ran over him it lost 20 seconds' time and missed the train."—N. Y. Weekly.
